ADDRESS TUESDAY TO JOINT SESSION

President Will Urge Congress to Confine Itself to Legislation Concerning the Vigorous Prosecution of the War.

Chief Executive Busy Now Preparing His Message.

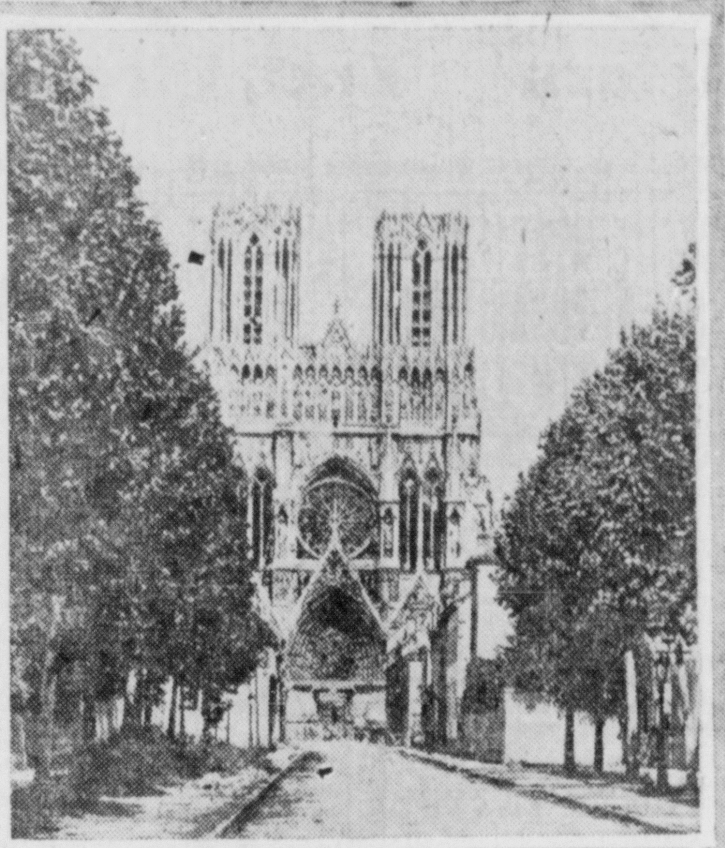

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, December 1. — President Wilson believes Congress should confine itself at the coming session chiefly to legislation for the vigorous prosecution of the war. He is expected to tell Congress so in his opening address which will be delivered in the hall of the House at 12:30 Tuesday.
All arrangements were made today with Speaker Clark and Vice President Marshall for the joint session at that hour.
The President continued at work on his address today, transcribing his notes into finished form, but the address will be kept open until the last moment.
Prohibition and suffrage constitutional amendments will be pressed early in the session.
Little business except to receive President Wilson's address is planned during the first week.

SENSATIONAL MURDER TRIAL OPENS MONDAY

Young Fulton County Farmer Charged With Killing Wife.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Wauseon, Ohio, December 1.—One of the most sensational murder trials that has been held in Ohio in years will begin here Monday, when Frederick Lehman a well to do young Fulton county farmer, charged with the murder of his wife at their farm near Swanton on the morning of September 17th, is placed on trial.
The wife was found murdered in her home with a bullet in her brain. The husband told officials that three bandits attacked him at his barn sometime around midnight and after shooting and clubbing him they entered his home and murdered his wife.
Two days later young Lehman was arrested on a charge of murdering his wife and a revolver was found under the milk house on the Lehman farm. Lehman was arrested at his wife's grave.

PROSECUTION FIXING THE CRIME MOTIVE

Means Is Shown to Have Juggled Securities of Woman Whom He Is Charged With Killing.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Concord, N. C., December 1. — By testimony of Chicago bankers the prosecution at the trial of Gaston B. Means for the murder of Mrs. Maude A. King, today continued to trace the many and sometimes spectacular financial transactions of Means with intent of showing he was using the securities and money of the dead woman for his own benefit, and establish a motive for the crime.
Prospects at the opening of the sixth day of the trial were that the taking of evidence might last another week, particularly if the defense puts the defendant on the stand to explain his version of the death of Mrs. King.

SUMMING UP IN DE SAULLES MURDER CASE

Fate of Accused Woman Will Probably be in the Hands of Jury This Evening.

(Associated Press Cable)
Mineola, N. Y., December 1.—When "summing up" addresses began this afternoon it was believed certain the fate of Mrs. Blanca De Saulles would this evening be in the hands of the jurors who would decide her guilt or innocence on a charge of murdering her husband.

Justice Davids Manning, at noon, indicated he would continue court until the issue was finally submitted to the jury.
Walter R. Jones, the justice of the peace who presided at Mrs. De Saulles' preliminary hearing testified today that his observation of Mrs. De Saulles following the shooting impressed him that she was rational. He added that her calm manner despite the unusual circumstances greatly surprised him.

George H. Hoffman, keeper of the Mineola jail supported the testimony of Jones regarding her sanity of action during her imprisonment.
Mrs. Anna Mooney, the nurse whom John L. De Saulles Jr. called "Boobie" testified that her mistress bought extravagantly while on a visit to England in 1914. This was evidently intended by the prosecution to offset that given by others who said De Saulles neglected his wife while they were touring England.
Mrs. De Saulles smiled when both sides announced "we rest."

Four Thousand British Soldiers Cut Off and Captured.

Berlin Claims Capture of Several Field Guns and Batteries.

Byng's Men Blow Up Big Guns to Prevent Capture.

Important Villages Retaken By Germans.

British Counter Attack Finally Checks German Offensive.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Details of the fighting in the Cambrai area yesterday now beginning to arrive indicates the serious nature of the enemy's attempt to break up the salient created by General Byng's recent victory which so seriously menaces the German Cambrai base.
A German turning movement gave the British a trying time. They were obliged to withdraw their troops from the area being cut off by the German wedge, and the British lost 4,000 prisoners, according to Berlin.
The capture of several batteries of field guns also is claimed by the Germans. The news dispatches indicate that a number of British guns were blown up by Byng's artillerymen, and the places falling into German hands may be presumed to be these.
According to the Berlin statement, between Moneveres and Bourlon and from Fontaine and La Solle the Germans threw back the British to the villages of Graincourt, Anneux and Cantaing.
They also captured Gonnelleu and Gillers.
British counter attacks finally stopped the Teutonic rush and saved the day. The counter attacks of the British are continuing today and while some ground lost still remains in German hands, the situation today is reported such as not to cause uneasiness.
The losses to both sides are said to be heavy.
The Germans have also made a violent attack on the Verdun front the French War Office announces. The statement says that the French held their lines against attacks.

AMONG WOMEN WAR WORKERS

Local club women who heard General Glenn's message presented by Major Everson at the Akron Federation of Women's clubs, will be doubly interested in the organization of the committee known as the Woman's Auxiliary to camp Sherman, which has resulted from an understanding of the cantonment's needs.

The purpose of this is to stand back of a big idea which no doubt will be taken up in every State where a training camp is situated.

Chillicothe citizens have done much for our boys and their visiting friends and relatives, but accommodations are quite inadequate and many trying situations have arisen.

There is within the cantonment a tract of thirty acres on which it is proposed to build a large community center containing rest rooms, a restaurant, etc., for which the Red Cross Society of America has donated $74,000. Grouped around this building will be the hostess house, given by the Daughters of the Revolution of Ohio, two Y. M. C. A. buildings, and many others given by various organizations, together with those provided by the Women's Auxiliary to Camp Sherman.

All of these buildings will be constructed on the simple lines employed in the cantonment for the soldiers, and will be under immediate direction of the same architects who planned the camp.

Mrs. Rood has been made State chairman of the organization committee which is still incomplete.

A HAPPY THOUGHT.

The Kinsman Bay-View club is rejoicing in the happy thought of one of its members who volunteered to typewrite the year books and give the cost of having them printed to the Red Cross. Several other clubs have shown a similar spirit of economy and patriotism.

On the Second Line of Defense.

Ever since this country faced the possibility of an active part in the European war the National Board of the Young Woman's Christian Association has been confronted with an immense responsibility for helping to safeguard the moral conditions in the neighborhood of army and navy training camps and to provide for the welfare of women in varied industries in the unusual conditions created by the war.

The National Board authorized the creation of this War Work Council of one hundred women and council voted to raise a budget of $1,000,000 for work among women and girls in communities adjoining United States army camps and mobilization centers in connection with special war industries.

tries employing girls and in European countries affected by the war.

The activities of these workers will be along such lines of emergency work as are suited to the locality wherein they are placed.

Investigation of social and economic conditions in the vicinity of military camps; the organizing of girls' clubs and their attendant educational and recreational classes; lectures given by those qualified to deal intelligently with the simple and essential principles of sex relationships and the dangers which must be met and overcome; housing problems to be worked out; the establishment of cafeterias near industrial plants employing women; and of hostess houses for the convenience of women relatives visiting soldiers in the camps; investigation and co-operation in European countries—these are a part of the preventive, constructive, educational program of the Association.

In Plattsburg, New York, where there had been no organized work for girls, two centers of work are established. Four workers give their entire time to the women relatives and friends who come to visit the army men, and to the thirty girls in the office of the post. Six additional workers are giving their energies in work with the seven girls' clubs of the town. That the results are most satisfactory is evidenced by the personal letter of appreciation to the Council from the commandant of the post, commending the Y. W. C. A. policies in handling the situation.

Junction City, Kansas, is to have one of the largest encampments in the United States before the summer is over. A girls' league has been organized; a cafeteria established; a physical director put in charge of recreation; and a hostess house will soon be erected to accommodate the many women relatives visiting the camp. The spirit of co-operation shown by the local women's organizations aids greatly in the success of this big venture.

QUESTIONNAIRES WILL BE MAILED OUT THIS MONTH

Every Registered Man, Unless Already in Training Must Answer Questions Which Will Automatically Place Him in Class in Which He Rightfully Belongs—Attorneys Will Aid Without Pay.

The Local Board of Fayette County will mail out the first copies of the new questionnaire to all drafted men not in military service, on December 15th, and sending a small percentage of the questionnaires each day until all have been sent out.

Every man who registered, and whether he has taken the physical examination or not, and whether exempted or discharged because of physical deficiency, dependents, industrial or agricultural grounds, will receive one of the questionnaires and must fill it out and return to the Local Board within seven days after receiving it.

The fact that every man who registered, and who is not now in the military service, receives one of the questionnaires, does not necessarily mean that he will be picked up and sent to camp in the near future, but it means that every drafted man will be classified, so that no injustice can take place in certifying men for service. Every man who receives a questionnaire must fill it out and return to the Local Board, however.

The sole object of the questionnaire is to properly classify each man. Five classes are provided, and the answers to the questions asked will automatically place the man in the proper class.

The questionnaires are very voluminous, and when a registered man receives his copy, he is not expected to fill it out without help, and this help is to be provided without cost to the men, and without pay to those who assist in the work.

In due time The Herald will carry a list of the attorneys, together with time and place of filling out the questionnaires, and the men will present themselves at the time designated and the attorneys will see that the questionnaires are properly filled out.

In all probability one room in the court house will be devoted to this work.

When the men are all classified, they will be called according to class, or exempted according to class, and everything possible is taken into consideration to make the working of the draft law absolutely impartial, regardless of race or standing.

EFFORT TO BLOW UP GWINN MILL

Columbus, O., December 1.—Police may have defeated an attempt last night to blow up the plant of the Gwinning Milling Company, Main Street and Norfolk and Western tracks, where thousands of bushels of grain are stored.

A thing believed to have been a bomb found in a ground window of the plant by Officers Kezeria and Rice, so alarmed police officials at the station that, with little tampering with it they decided to throw it into the Scioto River.

Visions of the explosion last Saturday night which killed 10 at the Milwaukee central police station were not ignored by the officials.

Report was made to the police that a man was seen running away from the plant property last night. The officers investigating found an object in one of the ventilating apertures of the plant that bore the marks of a mechanism enclosed in a hide. It was a small package, heavy, and sewed together. It was taken to headquarters.

Lieutenant Albanese ordered it put into a bucket of water. No effect resulting, he told his men to throw it in the river.

JACK DE WITT IS GIVEN PROMOTION IS NOW SERGEANT

Jack DeWitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant DeWitt of this city, now stationed at Fort McPherson, Georgia, has been promoted to Sergeant, as a recognition of his untiring work and marked ability.

Mrs. DeWitt is in receipt of a letter from her son, which is of much interest, and which is given below.

Fort McPherson, Georgia, Nov. 29, 1917, 12:30 p. m.

Dear Mother:

I know you have been wondering how I spent my Thanksgiving and what I had to eat. I have just come from the mess hall and will try to give you an idea of the menu. Here it is: Bread, butter and coffee; roast turkey and boiled ham, oyster dressing and oyster soup; creamed peas, cranberry sauce, sweet potatoes, celery, pickles, cake and pumpkin pie. The dinner was heaped on two tables and as we passed out, cigars, cigarettes and matches were given to each. They also gave us fruit and nuts of all varieties. I am certain no dinner will be served today that is equal to ours. Some of the boys never had one like it, I know.

We get invitations from the girls to dinner very often down here. As I have one for tonight, I did not gorge myself at mess. I received the box you sent me, and as the boys in the office share theirs with me, I shared with them. In fifteen minutes we made it look sick. With the butter and jam we are going to have another feed soon.

I have been promoted to a Sergeant so I wear the stripes now. As dad wants to know about my bed I shall describe it to him. It is some bed. It is a single iron bed with springs like a cot, only much better. I have a thick mattress and a covering which is changed every week. I have a pillow and casings which are also changed weekly. There are two quilts and three woolen blankets that go on it. Altogether, it makes as good a bed as you can find anywhere.

Well I have nothing more to write of except the weather, which is fine. Hoping you enjoyed yourself Thanksgiving as well as I did, I am,

Your son,

SER. JACK DEWITT, Med. Dept. U. S. A., Ft. McPherson, Georgia.

OHIO UNIVERSITY IN TIMES OF WAR

Ohio University has always quickly responded to the nation's call to arms. How generally the young men responded during the Civil War is attested by acts of the legislatures of 1867, 1868 and 1870, making appropriation: "to pay tuitions of soldiers in the state university at Athens and Oxford." In 1917, soon after the declaration of war, ninety-four young men left college to join the army and navy, and hundreds withdrew to enter some branch of emergency service. In the autumn when the football team was organized it was found that not a single football man who had played in a game of 1916 had returned. Twenty-four members of the 1916 team had entered the army or navy; of these sixteen or seventeen are commissioned officers. We now have a record of 228 graduates and former students who are in the army or navy; of these seventy-nine are commissioned officers.

What Ohio University has done, has been done in lesser or greater degree by the great majority of all the colleges of the country. And what has been done in the United States was done in magnificent manner by Great Britain, France and Belgium. As an illustration: Oxford University at the end of 1916 had on its Roll of Honor 10,688 past and present members in Naval and Military Service; of this number 1412 had laid down their lives and 100 were reported as "missing." High school graduates who can go to college should not hesitate because of the war. What the country needs is highly trained men and women.

Energy Misdirected

Quite a number of the little folks, boys and girls, about town have been enthusiastically at work during the last few weeks, gathering up cancelled postage stamps. Many of them have worked early and late with the tireless industry of youth and have succeeded in amassing a great number of used stamps.

The incentive was that the cancelled stamps were to be forwarded to Washington and the "coloring matter" extracted for dyes. That was one method of circumventing the Hun and the little folks jumped into the work with out making any investigation. It was a chance for them to do their "bit" and their patriotism urged them on to efforts which brought surprising results.

Now it develops that there is nothing in the story about the government extracting coloring matter from stamps and all the work done results in naught. Our young friends, if with their youthful enthusiasm and optimism need any thing at all to encourage them and to soften the disappointment, should remember that grown up folks have their disappointments too. Frequently our best and most sincere efforts come to naught, and our dreams of substantial success vanish. That's true in our private business enterprises and it is especially true now in war times, when we are all so anxious to do something for our beloved country.

These little set backs are what develop our bumps of caution and our inquisitiveness. Each time we make a little more inquiry before we start into work.

Forget the cancelled stamp effort, little men and little women, and start again on something else.

It's all right. Those things all come in a life time and they are what make men and women of little boys and girls and make the real successes of life, to young and old, worth while.

Our Young Officers

Thanksgiving day brought home for a few hours vacation with the home folks, many of Fayette county's newly commissioned officers—the young chaps, who left home as school boys, some of them a little bit awkward and diffident.

We hardly recognize them now, handsome, straight fellows they are—clear of eyes, with shoulders thrown back, their tight fitting suits, outlining their manly forms, perfectly at ease in any company, full of that inspiring confidence in themselves, conscious of their ability to do and eager to be at work doing their part in the task of the nation.

Our boys come back to us real men to whom a new vista of life has opened and they are ready—they are fit for the great work. If any one doubts that statement take a good look at one of these upstanding, confident, assertive, but polite, chaps, realize, if you can, the nerves and muscle bound up in the tight fitting suits and the mind constantly wrestling with the problems of life, that is under his cap.

The home folks are all just as proud of our boys as are their fathers and mothers. They belong to the nation now—the nation looks to them—the world is looking to them and they will deliver the results all in good time.

Behind the Curtain

We are officially told that guardsmen from every state of the union are now on French soil fit and ready, so far as physical condition and drill is concerned, to take an active part in the great war.

The announcement, coming as a supplement to the ones telling us of the safe arrival in France of General Pershing's troops and other announcements which have been given out regarding troop movements, are sufficient to convince us that there is an army of considerable proportions now following Old Glory on the fields of France.

While our boys are all willing and anxious to be in the thick of the fight the allied commanders have concluded that the greater part of the American force in France needs a little more seasoning in actual warfare before they are put into the actual first line work.

Thus far the fact that the great task of transporting these scores of thousands, yes, we believe now, hundreds of thousands of troops, to France through the pirate infested sea, with out the loss of a man is a remarkable achievement of which the army, the navy and the nation has reason to be proud.

The tremendous work that has been carried forward successfully by the government behind the curtain of a close censorship cannot fail, as that curtain is drawn aside occasionally, as it was on Friday, permitting a glimpse of the actual accomplishment, to inspire the American people.

We have already done wonders in getting our boys across the sea and they may be relied upon to do the rest "over there."

Poetry For Today

THE COLT

Gosh, I like to get a-holt
 Of a dad burn little colt!
 Soft-nosed, dish faced, big-eared booger,
 Beggin' fer a lump of sugar
 Or a pice o' apple core—
 Reg'lar de'll he is, for shore!
 Neck too short, an' legs too long,
 Back all wavy, short and strong,
 Kinky tail—there! See 'im flip
 That mis-chevious upper lip,
 Fairly achin' fer a nip
 Out o' baby's tender hide
 When 'is daddy lets 'im ride!
 You may doubt, but, says I,
 They's a twinkle in 'is eye
 Of a colt, when he sneaks up,
 Softer-footed than a pup,
 Nuzzles off yer old straw hat,
 Runs away as quick as scat!
 Makin' faces at 'is mother—
 Al'ays up to sumpin' nuther,
 Ornerly, but yit, confound 'im,
 I just love t' fool around 'im;
 He's so careless an' high-strung
 An' so—well, doggone it—young!

"MISERY MIKE."

I once knew a man who always had something the matter with him. He continually thought he was sick or was sure he was going to be. I don't know if he is still alive—it is no fault of his if he is. We all called him "Misery Mike." Nothing was ever right. He was just a natural born moaner. And was sure the world was coming to an end the next day. Not only made himself miserable but everyone else that came in contact with him—if they had let him. I've seen a lot of Misery Mikes since then. Have you one in the place where you work? Do you spill your troubles or fancied troubles—to anyone who will listen? Forget it if you do, before they start in pegging you as Misery Mike. "As a man THINKS so is he." Get to thinking right and see if your whole outlook on life isn't brighter.

CHILDREN CANNOT GET STATE LIABILITY

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., December 1.—When minors are employed contrary to the state laws and they meet with an accident in the course of such employment, their dependents cannot claim an award under the state workmen's compensation law. This is the gist of an opinion given to the state industrial commission this week by Attorney General Joseph McGhee.

The case in which the decision was called for was that of the parents of Quinton F. Fuerst, Cleveland. The boy, aged 13, was employed by a Cleveland electric company when injured. The boy was working during a school vacation and expected to resume his school work. The fact that he was working during a school vacation does not change the law, the attorney general says.

BIG DUPLICATE IS ANTICIPATED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., December 1.—The total state tax duplicate for 1917 is expected to exceed $3,300,000,000, according to Robert D. Alexander, chairman of the state tax commission, who estimates that the increase this year over last probably will be $600,000.

On only one previous occasion, in 1911 when the last quadrennial real estate appraisal was made, has there been such a large increase in the duplicate, he said.

Many of the counties have not sent in their final estimates, but just as soon as this is done the commission will give out a detailed statement showing where the largest increases have been made, and the result of work in each of the 88 counties of Ohio.

Simple services were conducted by Rev. J. L. Haas, of Tarenton, over all that was mortal of Mrs. Armilda Johnson, widow of the late Jesse Johnson, at the home at Johnson's Crossing, Friday afternoon.

The large number of relatives and friends assembled spoke with silent eloquence of the high regard in which Mrs. Johnson had been held and the gathering was one deeply saddened by both personal sorrow and a community sense of loss.

It was Mrs. Johnson's desire that friends send no flowers and, although many orders had reached the florist to be annulled by her wishes, the casket was covered only by the beautiful floral blanket of her own choosing.

A long line of autos formed at the close of the services for Greenlawn cemetery at Frankfort, where the burial was made in the family lot.

The pallbearers were Messrs. T. H. Craig, Frank M. Kennedy, John Durant, W. B. Rogers, of this city; Messrs. Frank Junk, John Coyner, of Austin; Mr. Charles Grimes, of New Holland; Mr. J. E. Kelley, of Toronto, Ohio.

Our days are filled with calisthenics, foot drill, letter drill, ambulance drill, school, quizzes, fatigue, inspections, hikes, reviews and what not."

"Saw Carpenter a few days ago. He's fast approaching the heavy weight class, to which Lieut. George Kerr and Susie Gray have already been admitted.

"Among my tent mates is Leo Fox, of Mansfield, who spent some time in Washington C. H. during the construction of the Automatic telephone system, and who will be remembered by the Volley ball players. We watch the volley ball news in the Herald with interest.

MAJOR ALLEN WRITES FROM OVER THE SEA

"Boys All Well" Declares Major
Rell G. Allen in Letter of Deep Interest.

Is Comfortably Located With the Mayor of Village "Somewhere in France."

Gives Idea of Customs of French
People and Does Not Approve of Some Methods.

Relative in this city have received a long and interesting letter from Major Rell G. Allen, of the 166th United States Infantry, now located "somewhere in France," and it will be of deep interest to the host of friends of Major Allen and the other Fayette county men now in France to know that all are well and in good spirits.

Major Allen is very comfortably located with the mayor of a French

French village, and—but the following letter tells its own story;

Some Place in France,
November 11, 1917.

Dear Homefolks:—

Since writing you last we have changed our location, but believe we are a great deal better situated than before, or at least some of us are. One of the Regimental Surgeons, my Adjutant and myself are located in two dandy rooms at the house of the Mayor of the village. My room is about 12 by 16 feet with two large closets, in one of which is the washstand, a towel rack and toilet articles. The other closet is used for my clothes and extra baggage. I have a real bed, too. The mattress is about a foot thick and plenty of bed clothes. All beds in the houses of the people of the better class have something like a small featherbed, which is the width of the bed and about five feet long. These are filled with down and are used on top of the covers. There is a bolster and one pillow for each bed. Have a grate in the room which we have not used as yet, as we only stay here at night. There is lots of fine china of all kinds on the wall and in cases, a large library of perhaps 500 volumes, all high class stuff. The mayor's household seems to consist of himself, wife and one maid. We use candles for light, although tonight I purchased a lantern down town. It costs five cents to fill the lanterns. The other room is fixed just about the same as this one. All have hard wood floors with rugs. Warm water is furnished each morning to wash. The part of the house occupied by the family is very homelike. They have a piano and nice wood stoves, also hanging lamps.

Headquarters is a much larger building and formerly occupied by the owner of all the lands around here. It is what is called a chateau, with possibly 30 rooms. Fine old china and furniture are seen everywhere in the buildings. The family living there now cook for the regimental mess. We furnish the rations and they do the cooking and clean up. Their cooking is rather peculiar and tastes strange at times. We use the French army bread, and while it is very dark in appearance, one is surprised how well one gets to like it.

This is certainly a fine country. It is cut up in small fields but there are no fences between them, generally just a ridge of earth. Roads are of the best and run in all directions, even the trails, or by-roads are good.

One would hardly know this country was at war, except by seeing the uniform. Every village has its church and every church one or more bells. Everyone works all of the time.

But what gets my goat more than anything else is to see the dwelling, barn, stable, pig pen, chicken house all under the same roof.

All of the buildings are of stone with plaster or cement on the outside. All of the ground facing the south is cultivated. Every foot of soil seems to be under cultivation. The mode of transportation is the cart such as you have seen pictured as in France. If you want to get a good idea of what France really looks like, have some of the picture show people to get some pictures of France, I mean of the country part especially. They will be of interest to lots of people.

I am writing this letter at Headquarters. A stick of stovewood with two short candles is at the left of the key-board of the machine (Remington) and an old fashioned lamp with one of those long chimneys at my right. There are half a dozen officers in the room and every one of them talking. All of the boys are feeling fine. No grumbling and very little sickness. I want to see France in the summer-time. Some of us expect to get into Paris soon. Captain Bob just got down to my left to finish writing a letter home. The names of the towns are hard to remember because they are all so strange. It's funny to hear us try to talk French. I am not making much headway in this, but expect to after awhile.

Will have to gather up my washing in the morning and find someone to wash for me. Every village and hamlet has a community wash house. This is generally a pool built out of cement or rock, about 15 feet long and ten feet wide. The water runs in at one end and out at the other. The pool is about three feet deep and inside of a building erected for that purpose. The rock next to the top of the water is smooth. The clothes are dipped into the pool, laid on this stone and rubbed with brushes. The women get on their knees to do this. It is a very crude way of washing but they get good results. I suppose my clothes will be done the same way.

Was over to one of the little towns about four miles from here this afternoon, with the Colonel and several other officers. We ran across a bakery and got some apple pies and cakes. They tasted mighty fine. Also bought a knife. The last one I purchased was at Las Cruces, New Mexico, last year. This has been a good apple year in France. They are good and cheap. We do lots of walking here. Think nothing of taking a ten mile hike in the mornings while attending to our work.

Yours,
RELL.

PRESENT ADDRESS OF WALTER PATTON

Many persons have inquired for the correct address of Walter Patton, Y. M. C. A. worker now doing his "best" among the American forces in France. The address is given below, and his friends are reminded that a letter under present circumstances is worth 100 under ordinary surroundings: Walter Patton,
Co. G, 101st Infantry,
U. S. Expeditionary Army,
FRANCE.

BLUE LODGE WILL HAVE MAGAZINES

At the beginning of the present year the Masonic Blue Lodge of this city subscribed for quite a number of magazines which were placed in the Masonic club rooms and have proved so popular that the lodge will repeat the plan for next year, and will have an even larger number of good magazines on file at the attractive club rooms of the Masons.

SAVE SOME SUGAR

The chief objection of the average housewife to using delicious cranberries is the large amount of sugar ordinarily used in cooking the berries. A local successful housewife submits the following method of cooking cranberries and saving sugar:

Use half as much sugar as cranberries, and half as much water as sugar. Cover, and cook ten minutes.

TO MANY FRIENDS IN WASHINGTON

In order to write a few words to his many anxious friends here, all of whom will be glad to learn that he is improving steadily under special treatment, Robert Baird asks The Herald to publish the following letter:

Palmer House, 182 Main Street,

East Orange, N. J.
Saturday, November 24, 1917.

Dear Friends:—
There are too many of you to write to, so I am sending you a little letter through the Herald to let you know that I am much better all ready. I am staying at the Palmer House for the winter while I am taking my treatments and I like it very much.

I am now going to school every day for an hour and a half and I am enjoying the Arithmetic and spelling very much. Last week I was at the head of the honor roll.

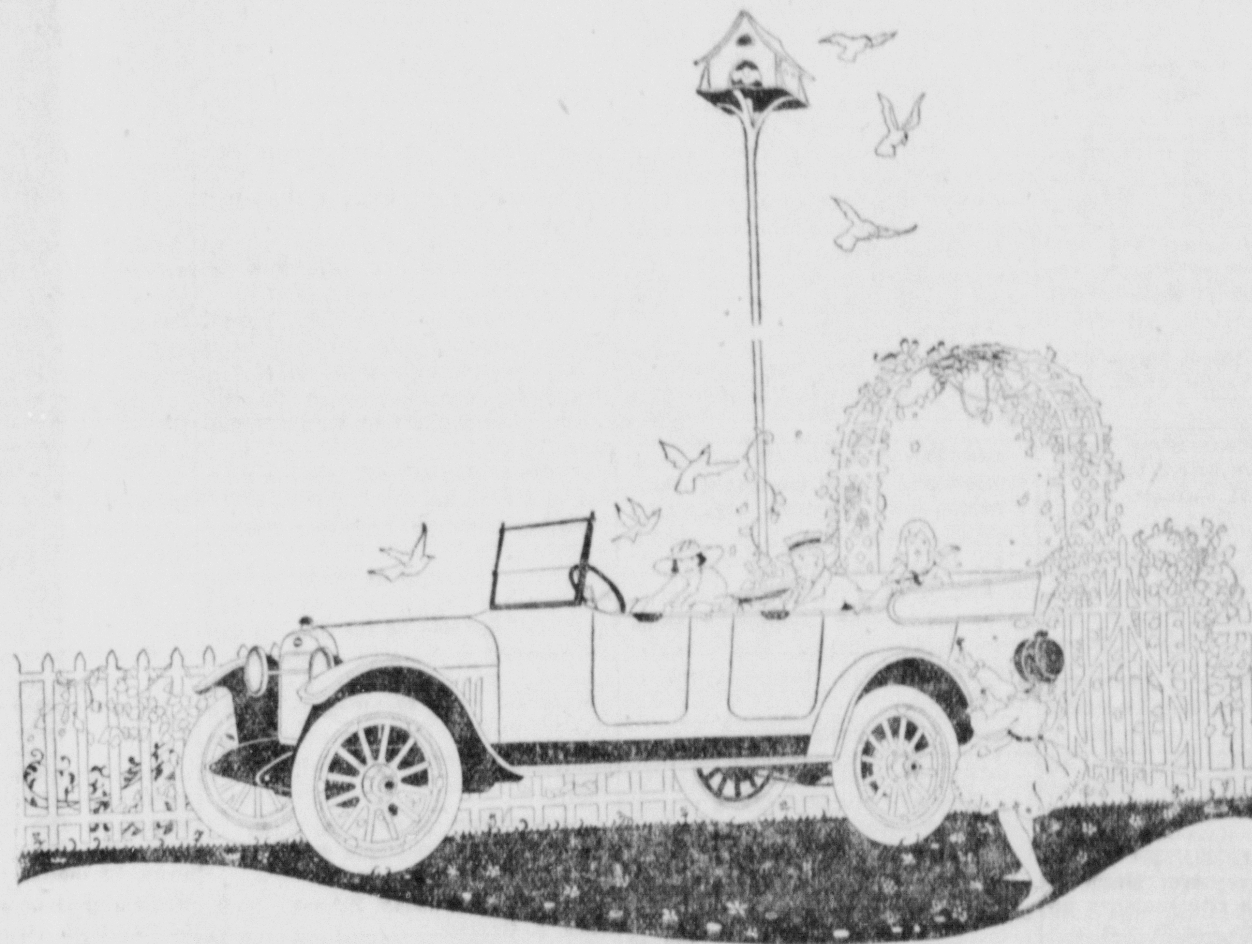

I went across the river by ferry several times from Hoboken and saw the "Kaiser's Pet" the Vaterland which Mr. Wilson kept for this country. It is now called the "Leviathan" and it went to "somewhere" on Thursday the 15th. Thank you all for your interest in me.

From Your Post Boy

Announcing the New Oakland Sensible Six

THE NEW OAKLAND SENSIBLE SIX IS HERE.

It is a continuation of the remarkably successful Oakland Sensible Six of the past three seasons, which has been annually refined, improved and strengthened so that now we are offering tomorrow's car to you today—the forerunner of the type of automobile that soon shall command America.

Scientific development of the engine now makes it more powerful, more speedy at the getaway, more active in traffic and more economical in use of fuel.

Improvements in the design of intake and exhaust manifolds secure the utmost power value from today's gasoline.

The overhead valve high-speed, six cylinder engine now delivers 44 horse power at 2600 r.p.m. or one full working horse power for every 48 pounds of car weight.

The new force feed oiling system gives thorough lubrication to the vital moving parts of the engine.

Higher cooling efficiency has been obtained through the use of a larger pump and new type bi-plane fan of powerful suction.

Proper design has contrived a full 106 inches of body room on the 112 inch wheel base—affording seating capacity and leg room equal to that of many cars of much longer wheelbase.

Long, specially graded, semi-elliptic underslung springs and extra large tires give ideal riding comfort—accentuated by the deep genuine leather upholstery.

The fine appearance of the new Oakland Sensible Six is enhanced by a sloping wind shield of new design; an oil gage of pressure feed type on the dash; a deeper radiator; a higher body wall and the tire carrier at the rear of the car.

These are just a few of the features that contribute to the complete excellence of the new Oakland Sensible Six.

See all of them in the car itself in our display room.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

THE Detroit ELECTRIC
Today's Car of Utility and Economy

Economy and Utility

blended with

Smooth, Reliable Performance

Naturally the upkeep expense of a Detroit Electric is surprisingly low when compared to that of a gas car.

Because of its simplicity of construction and few moving parts, there is practically never any need for repairs or service attention.

Furthermore, electricity is the cheapest motor car fuel known. And gasoline is high and getting higher.

To this economy of the Detroit Electric is added its wonderful utility.

Each member of the family can drive it expertly and safely.

And this utility is enhanced by the smoothness, the travel-ease, and the absolute reliability of the car's performance.

May we arrange a demonstration?
